Individual Induction Plan (IIP)

Together, the candidate and coach will create an Individual Induction Plan (IIP – Appendix C) with goals anchored in the CPSEL. The goals will be based on:

- a series of initial assessments of the candidate’s familiarity with the CPSEL, leadership strengths and other individualized self-assessments (e.g. Meyer’s Briggs, Kirtman competencies, etc.)
- focus areas of growth
- a review of the current job placement and needs
- a review of the employer’s priorities for the candidate’s leadership work.

The results of these assessments are used to set goals, develop the coaching plan and identify professional development opportunities aligned to discrete CPSELS.

The IIP will contain, at a minimum, the documents listed in Appendix I and described in the following sections: Assessments, Coaching, Professional Learning.

Coaching Process and Logs

Coaching is job-embedded. The coach comes to the candidates site and there are no university classes for the candidate to complete. The coach and candidate will complete 40 hours of coaching per year, each year for two years. Coaching is primarily face to face although a small percentage of the coaching can be via telephone, email or video conferences. Candidates will maintain a log of coaching hours (Appendix I) in their electronic portfolio.

Coach Supervision & Feedback

Coaches complete a monthly coaching report of coaching work and submit to the Program Coordinator with a copy to the candidate for their electronic portfolio.

Coaches will be observed by the Program Coordinator for Education Leadership at least twice a year as well as receive feedback from aggregated data based on confidential surveys completed by clear credential candidates. Candidate survey responses are extremely helpful in ensuring high quality coaching. In addition, the program coordinator may attend a coaching session to shadow the coach for the purposes of coach evaluation.

Assessments

As part of the electronic portfolio, candidates must demonstrate a certain number of assessments. In our portfolio at Touro University California, these are the assessments we use:

1. Initial Induction Self-Assessment of CPSEL - Appendix B
2. Strengths Finder 2.0 - https://www.amazon.com/Strengths-Based-Leadership-Leaders-People/dp/1595620257/ref=sr_1_3?ie=UTF8&qid=1465690045&sr=8-3&keywords=strengths+finder+2.0 (must buy new to get assessment code)
3. Other Leadership or Personality Assessment results (e.g. Kirkman Competencies, Meyers-Briggs, or similar)
4. Coach Assessments (Benchmark, Formative, Summative) - Appendices E, F, G
5. Post-Assessment of CPSEL - Appendix B

Initial Induction Assessment

The California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CTC) Handbook for the Administrative Services Credential (ASC) Program Standards tells us that,

The initial induction assessment is designed to measure a candidate's entry-level competence in each of the program-selected outcomes from Standard 5 of the Administrative Services Credential Induction Program Standards as baseline information that can be compared in future assessments to determine the candidate's growth over time and overall competency. The initial assessment is informed by multiple measures. (p.30)

Thus, we ask the candidate to complete the CPSEL self-assessment, included in the Appendix, considering administrative experiences to date, their Fieldwork Portfolio from the Preliminary Administrative Services Credential Program, if available, professional learning experiences since earning the preliminary credential and any other relevant evidence that provides a measure of proficiency for any of the California Professional Standards for Education Leaders (CPSEL).

In addition, each candidate will complete the StrengthsFinder 2.0 (Conchie & Rath, 2001) and one other assessment, either the Meyers-Briggs inventory or a comparable local assessment the candidate's school or district might already be using..

StrengthsFinder 2.0

Using the StrengthsFinder 2.0 assessment, based on voluminous Gallup research about leadership strengths, candidates will identify and examine their leadership strengths. As a resource to the assessment, candidates will read Rath & Conchie's Strengths-Based Leadership (2009). Results of the assessment will be incorporated into the candidates IIP as examples of the candidate's ability to demonstrate excellence.

Rath & Conchie (2009). Strength-Based Leadership. New York: The Free Press. Please purchase the book NEW in order to get the assessment code. The book will help you with more information about the results of your assessment.

Additional, External Self-Assessment

Using the Meyers-Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI), or an acceptable substitute approved by the coach (e.g. Kirtman’s Competencies), the candidate will examine their understanding of themselves and identify areas of growth that align to the IIP.

Coach Assessments

Benchmark, Summative, Formative Assessments – Appendices E, F, G

At the semester (benchmark), end of year 1 (formative) and end of year 2 (summative) the coach will summarize the coaching progress of the candidate. The candidate will upload these to the electronic portfolio.

Professional Learning

With the development of the IIP (Appendix C), the coach and candidate will identify, and agree upon, professional learning activities that the candidate will complete to support their growth as part of Clear Induction. The candidate will complete Appendix H and collect supporting artifacts to validate their participation in the listed professional learning activities to upload to the electronic portfolio. Complete portfolio instructions are in the document referenced in Appendix L.

Community of Practice – Opportunities for reciprocal learning

New for 2016-2017 are scheduled calls for candidates, three times per semester for us to check in and provide additional support and professional learning opportunities. You can log these calls as part of your Professional Learning hours.

In addition, there will be regularly scheduled calls for those of you who would like to participate in a Community of Practice. On the Community of Practice calls, we will utilize protocols focused on problems of practice and consultancies. These calls are designed to help build your admin muscle as well as provide another venue for professional learning opportunities for your log.

Here is the schedule I have drafted for 2016-2017. For all calls we will use Zoom which will allow you to participate via videoconference or telephone.

Grading Policy

Touro University's College of Education uses the following consistent grading system:

Pass (P)

A passing (P) grade is 70% or higher. Candidates must earn a 3.0 overall GPA in the program to remain a student in good academic standing and be recommended for a credential. Candidates must pass (with a score of 3 or 4) both TPAs. Failure in either TPA results in an incomplete (INC) until remediation and passing score is posted.

Fail (F)

A failing (F) grade is below 70%.

Incomplete (I)

An incomplete grade (I) indicates that a student has not finished all required work for issuance of a grade. An incomplete grade is not counted in the grade point calculations until an assigned percentage replaces it. An incomplete must be replaced before the student registers for the next academic year, if in a multi-year program. Replacement of an incomplete will be under the direction of the instructor. If the required work is not complete within the specified time, the incomplete will automatically convert to an unsatisfactory grade (U). An incomplete is only granted if the student maintains satisfactory work up to the end of the course with only an assignment or two missing.

Withdrawal (W)

A withdrawal (W) indicates that a student has registered for a course and withdrew before the end of the semester. A W will remain on the student's transcript.

Withdrawal Unsatisfactory (WU)

A withdrawal unsatisfactory (WU) indicated that a student has registered for a course and withdrew from the course during finals week. A WU will remain on the student's transcript.

Student Dispositions

The Touro University California Graduate School of Education credential and degree programs are guided by Program Standards (10 f,g,&h) for the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing that state:

- (1) Each candidate exhibits intellectual integrity, serves student honestly, protects their privacy, respects their work, sustains open discussion of ideas;
- (2) Each candidate assesses his or her own progress, accepts professional advice, considers constructive criticism, and engages in a continuous program of professional development; and
- (3) Each candidate models respect for the cultures, religion, gender and lifestyle orientation of students and their families.

In conjunction with the elements of the above standards, Touro University California's Graduate School of Education has high expectations regarding student candidate dispositions. These dispositions include:

- 1. collaboration
- 2. honesty/integrity
- 3. respect
- 4. reverence for learning
- 5. emotional maturity
- 6. reflection
- 7. flexibility
- 8. responsibility
- 9. appropriate interpersonal conduct
- 10. ethical and professional behavior

Students who display poor judgment or performance in one or more of these areas may not be recommended for a credential/degree, and/or may receive a grade that reflects the consequences of their actions, including a failing grade. Occasionally a student will meet the academic requirements of the course, but manifest personal limitations that might impede future teaching performance. In such cases, it is the responsibility of the faculty to guide the student to take remedial action (either to repeat the class for credit, to become involved in personal therapy, to take a year's leave of absence from the program, to take remedial courses), to be re-evaluated, and/or to consider withdrawing from the program.

The faculty regularly reviews the progress of all students in the program in order to support them in the most effective way possible. For a detailed description of the dispositions described above, please refer to the Graduate School of Education Handbook.

Plagiarism

Related to the dispositions of honesty, integrity, and ethical and professional behavior, a student who has plagiarized must expect consequences for such action. The instructor will take one or more of the following disciplinary actions:

1. Report the action in writing to the student, the student’s Program Chair, and the Dean.
2. Assign a “0” on the assignment with no possibility of making up the grade by means of additional work.
3. Assign a “0” for the course, and notify the Dean of the Graduate School of Education.
4. Suspend the student for a period ranging from the term in which the infraction occurs to dismissal from the university.

College Grading Policy

Touro University’s College of Education reports course grades in percentage scores and uses the following grading system:

100-97%	96-93%	92-90%	89-87%	86-83%	82-80%	79-77 %	76-73%	72-70%	69-0%

Note:

The course syllabus and calendar are tentative and subject to revision. Such revisions will be presented to students.
