

TOURO UNIVERSITY
CALIFORNIA

PUBLIC HEALTH PROGRAM

BE A CHANGE AGENT FOR SOCIAL JUSTICE.

4th Annual Social Justice in Public Health Lecture Series

Immigration & Public Health

An innovative collection of lectures and panel discussions from experts in the field, this year's series focuses on the public health impacts of migration, immigration and anti-immigration policies on individuals, families and communities.

Please join us for the first of six lectures
Monday, October 15.

Immigration & Health Care:
Seth Holmes, PhD, MD & Panel
Lander Hall, Lecture Hall A

5 – 7 pm

Touro University California
1557 Azuar Drive, Vallejo, CA 94592

All are welcome to a reception in the Farragut Inn Ballroom on the Touro campus immediately following lecture.

Dr. Holmes is an Associate Professor of Medical Anthropology and Public Health at the University of California Berkeley and the founding co-chair of the Berkeley Center for Social Medicine. He is the author of the ground-breaking book Fresh Fruit, Broken Bodies: Migrant Farmworkers in the United States.

