4TH ANNUAL SOCIAL JUSTICE IN PUBLIC HEALTH LECTURE SERIES: IMMIGRATION & PUBLIC HEALTH

LANDER HALL A, 1557 AZUAR DRIVE, VALLEJO, CA 94592

Immigration, Detention Centers & Human Rights Monday, 11/5 5 – 7 pm

Attorney Peggy Bristol is a first-generation American whose father and other immigrant relatives came to the United States through Ellis Island.

A native New Yorker, she has a deep appreciation for her American heritage as well as her family's Caribbean heritage. She and her staff all speak at least two languages, and all are committed to serving clients with passion, dedication, imagination and integrity.

Peggy has coached and mentored numerous attorneys on substantive and procedural strategies for young immigrants who are eligible for Special Immigrant Juvenile Status. She has helped lead "Train the Trainer" workshops for "Know Your Rights" advocates.

Isa Noyola is a translatina activist, a national leader in the LGBT immigrant rights movement, and the deputy director at Transgender Law Center. She works extensively for the release of transgender women from ICE detention and an end to all deportations. She is a part of the #Not1more campaign team and sits on the advisory boards of TAJA coalition, El/La para Translatinas, and Familia: Trans, Queer Liberation movement. She has organized the first ever national trans anti-violence convening that brought together over 100 activists, mostly trans women of color, to address the epidemic of violence trans communities are facing.

Lectures are free & open to the public.
